

Personal Info.

Connected with the auto insurance folks and they don't think it works. Nothing in our contracts that would obviously allow if (though if there's a nuclear event, that's covered - I guess we thought a nuclear event was more likely than a siege). Also, an individual just makes a claim and it would be difficult/ impossible to run question like "was your vehicle damaged within a certain are of

iMessage

